Special Conditions of Release

In all instances, however, the defendant must notify the Pretrial Services Agency of his or her departure from the residence.
2. If the defendant fails to report as required to the Pretrial Services Agency or to appear for any specified treatment or evaluation, defendant may be subject to such random visits at his/her residence or work by a Pretrial Services Officer as may be necessary to verify his/her residence or place of employment in order to secure compliance with the order of release.

Advice of Penalties

If defendant violates any of the preceding conditions of release, a warrant will issue for his/her arrest and the terms and conditions of any further release will be reconsidered. Such reconsideration can result in a revocation of release, an order of detention, the forfeiture of any previously posted bail, and a prosecution for contempt, the latter of which could result in a term of imprisonment and/or a fine. In addition, if the defendant fails to appear as required, he/she could be prosecuted for failing to appear and, if found guilty, be subject to imprisonment for up to ten years and/or fined up to $250,000 depending upon the offense charged.

The commission of any offense while on pretrial release may result in an additional sentence upon conviction for such offense of up to ten years, depending on the offense. Defendant is advised that it is a criminal offense to intimidate or attempt to intimidate a witness, juror, or officer of the court, or to obstruct a criminal investigation, or to tamper with a witness, victim, or informant, or to retaliate against a witness, victim, or informant, or to threaten or to attempt to do so. These offenses are punishable by up to ten years of imprisonment and a $250,000 fine. The term(s) of imprisonment imposed for any of the foregoing offenses shall be consecutive to the sentence of imprisonment for any other offense and must be imposed in addition to the sentence received for the offense itself.
